
Each point averages the same 3 validation folds. The 9 fold x seed cases are not 9 independent samples.
Soft objects were outside the baseline regression training target; this comparison does not measure neutron efficiency.